

- ▶ Positive session across markets, fuelled by optimism surrounding the trade agreement reached between the Trump administration and the UK government, which has helped ease tensions and is seen as a potential blueprint for ongoing negotiations with other countries. Additionally, the Bank of England cut interest rates by 25 basis points to 4.25%, citing increased uncertainty in the economic outlook. In contrast, Norges Bank and the Riksbank held rates steady at 4.5% and 2.25%, respectively.
- ▶ Equity markets posted broad-based gains, while sovereign bond yields in the eurozone and the US edged higher. The US dollar strengthened against most major currencies, and oil climbed to $63 per barrel.
- ▶ There are no major macroeconomic releases scheduled for today, however, investors remain focused on the outcome of this weekend's trade talks between the US and China, where mutual concessions are seen as possible.
